The 4 page 60 minute ESL British English lesson – 05/07/13

The wonderful potholes on our roads!

Today, let's talk about the potholes on our roads. You'll find them in every town, city and in greater numbers in the countryside. They come in all shapes and sizes. Some are more dangerous than others.

Flooding and long spells of freezing temperatures cause potholes and the decay of roads. Poor quality road construction caused by corrupt officials putting the money in their pockets then using sub-standard materials is another cause.

This spring many countries saw a rise in insurance claims by motorists for suspension and axle damage on their cars following the harsh winter. Think about it - Every pothole causes wear and tear to suspension components. Many people discover their suspension has simply worn out from the punishment!

Underfunding, severe winters and flooding have left roads in disrepair for decades. Councils in many countries have struggled to move beyond patching up a deteriorating network. Poor maintenance causes expanding potholes! The more potholes the more misery for motorists.

The local garage does a roaring trade fixing cars that have hit potholes and need repairing. The suspension or tyre might need fixing. Warning - Potholes can cause serious damage to your car! They are also a serious risk to your pocket!

Potholes are also a particular risk to cyclists as they are often at the side of a road. Cyclists inevitably swerve to miss them, which is when they can be hit by a motorist. Hitting a pothole means a cyclist could fall off their bike. Worse they could be killed! Unfortunately, with so much of our road network resembling a Swiss cheese, it's almost impossible to avoid hitting a pothole.

SPEAKING – WARM UP

What is a pothole? Where do you find them? Why? Go round the room swapping details with others.
